WILLIAMSTOWN.

Young Boys Narrow Escape from Drowning—Daughter Died in the West—Staten Coal Recovered—Grand Army Officers Installed—Sunday School Officers Elected—Week of Prayer—Alarm for a Pasture Fire.

A five-year-old son of Ed. Valencourt had a narrow escape from drowning Monday afternoon. He fell into the Green river in the Cole pasture below Water street and quickly sank, but fortunately help was soon at hand and the child was rescued by John Saxon and William Edwards after two or three skillful dives to the bottom of the stream. When brought to the shore the boy was thought to be dead, but Dr. Lloyd was called and succeeded in resuscitating him. The little boy and his rescuers were properly cared for and it is thought none of them will suffer any serious effects from their unpleasant experience. The place where the child fell in was but a short distance from where a boy was drowned a year ago last summer.

The public schools opened Monday after a two weeks' vacation with a good attendance.

GRAM'S WONDERFUL NERVE.

Public Opinion Seems To Be With The Convicted Nation.

Boston, Jan. 5.—Thomas Bramwell and his nerve is collected again. He is still the same calm, imperturbable man that caused wonder at his appearance all through his famous trial. Yesterday morning he was not so bright as usual, but to-day his good spirits have returned, and no one would guess from his manner and actions that he has passed the first corner on the road to the scaffold. His counsel are preparing for one of the greatest contests ever waged to save a man's life, and no stone will be left unturned to keep Bramwell from the gallows. One thing is apparent. Hundreds of men are to be found who are firmly convinced that there was not evidence enough to convict and that they hoped to see a disagreement. Few persons can be discovered, however, who will openly declare that they believe he should have been acquitted. The point in all discussions seems to be that there should have been another trial and a clearer presentation of the case before the law demanded that his neck should be broken by a rope. United States Marshal Swift has sent a communication to the jail requesting that no person except the counsel be allowed to see Bramwell, and that no outsiders be permitted to talk with the witness. The latter cannot see Bramwell and he cannot talk with him. The sailors are feeling quite well. They get a good living and as much, if not more, pay than they would on shipboard without working; so they find no fault with their surroundings and do not complain at their confinement. It is probable that a new order will be made in regard to them to-day or to-morrow, and it is not likely that they will be allowed their liberty until the case is disposed of. The cost of the trial to the government will be not far from $10,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Prindle visited relatives in Berlin, N. Y., Sunday.

A quantity of B. F. Bridge's personal property will be sold at auction Wednesday at 10 o'clock by Sheriff Eldridge to satisfy a number of executions.

The week of prayer is being observed by the Congregational and Methodist churches. Some of the meetings of the latter are held at the church and some at Clark chapel. Next week special services will be held every evening at the Methodist church and Rev. Edward Wilson will be assisted by pastors from neighboring towns.

News was received Monday by telegraph of the death, at Mankato, Minn., of Mrs. C. D. Benack, daughter of W. L. Crocker of this town, which occurred suddenly Monday morning. Mrs. Benack was born and reared in North Adams, where she was married about twelve years ago. She had since lived in the West. But few in town knew her, but Mr. Crocker has many friends who sincerely sympathize with him.

Mrs. Anna Welch and Miss Minnie Odell have returned to Troy after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. Bufe of Church street.

M. P. Noel finished the foundation for A. A. Belding's wagon shop on Cole avenue Monday. The building will be two stories high above the basement.

S. A. Hixson of South Williamstown has been drawn as the town's grand juror for the year.

Misses Jennie and Anna White of Lenox are the guests of Miss Winona Dodge.

The officers of E. P. Hopkins post, G. A. A. R., were installed Monday evening by Judge Casio of Lenox. After the installation camp fire was lighted and a few hours were passed in the happy manner characteristic of Grand Army camp fires. The associate members of the post were invited and a good number of them were present. The officers of the Woman's Relief corps will be installed Thursday evening by Mrs. Josephine Burdick of North Adams.

Mrs. E. E. Evans, who has been sick for ten days, is reported to be slightly better.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Adams have been visiting relatives at Waterford, N. Y., for a few days.

Mrs. H. H. Heap, who has been sick for some time, is improving.

The Methodist Sunday school has elected these officers for the year: Superintendent, Arthur Lindley; first assistant, Mrs. A. E. Hall; second assistant, Lewis Evans; secretary, Miss Lizzie Ensign; treasurer, Miss Bertha Mosberg; chorister, J. W. Lawrence; assistant chorister, Miss Lawrence; organist, Mrs. Frank Town.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Orton have gone to Waterford, N. Y., where they will be located for some time. Mr. Orton is employed by Lindley Bros., contractors, who are building a new house there, and Mr. Orton will stay until the contract is finished.

A little before 8 o'clock Monday evening, the occasion proved to be a large fire in a pasture on a hill east of the village. It is a rare thing for such a fire to be seen in this part of the country in the winter season.

NEW YORK STATE TROOPS.

Reserves Taken Against Re-Organization of the Militia.

Albany, Jan. 5.—Gov. Black has issued through the adjutant-general his first order assuming command of the national guard and naval militia. He appoints Edward Earl Britton as adjutant-general, ranking as colonel from Jan. 1, 1897, and assigns him to duty as aide-de-camp on the governor's staff. The governor takes measures against a reorganization of the militia by law. The adjutant-general being by law the superior to whom they are addressed, and must be considered confidential until their publication in part or in full is authorized by him. The adjutant-general being by law the chief of staff of the commander-in-chief, all officers of that staff will perform their prescribed duties under his direction. The adjutant-general being by law also the auditor of all military and naval accounts, no officer will incur any expense on account of the state, except as expressly provided in the regulations, without having first the sanction of the adjutant-general. Officers seeking legislation on military or naval matters must obtain the approval of the adjutant-general before approaching the legislature. To regulate the wearing of gold stripes and medals, this order is issued. "A permanent board on the question of uniforms and equipment, consisting of the adjutant-general, the brigadier-commanders, the senior commanding officer in the naval militia, and the senior assistant adjutant-general of the state, is hereby constituted to convene at the call of the adjutant-general and to submit its conclusions and recommendations from time to time for my action."

DEFAULTER AND SUICIDE.

Surprising Downfall and Death of an Aged Baltimore Bank Cashier.

Baltimore, Jan. 5.—Richard D. Cornelius, one of the oldest and best known bank cashiers of this city, committed suicide yesterday. His body was found in the duck pond in Druid Hill park a few hours after a shortage of $60,000 had been discovered in his accounts at the National Farmers' and Planters' bank. Last Saturday Bank Examiner Winchester drew the attention of the officers of the bank to some irregularities in the accounts of an out-of-town institution. Yesterday Mr. Cornelius was asked to explain the irregularities. He did not attempt to do so, but abruptly walked off. A closer examination of his accounts disclosed an apparent shortage of $60,000. When the officers of the bank learned that the cashier had left the building they telephoned to Smith, West & Lyon, the detectives, to hunt him up. Mr. West traced the defaulter to Druid Hill park and thence to the duck pond. There they found his body floating in three feet of water. The man had evidently held himself to the bottom of the pond by the weeds that grow there. Mr. Cornelius was about 65 years of age and had been connected with the National Farmers' and Planters' bank for over forty-two years. He was a close friend of the late Enoch Pratt, who was president of the bank for almost half a century. In religious circles, Mr. Cornelius was almost as prominent as in banking circles. His tragic end is the sole topic of conversation in downtown circles. Hundreds of his friends refused to believe that he was either a defaulter or suicide. The matter caused more excitement in the banking district than any other event in years. For many years Mr. Cornelius had been very prominent in Methodist circles, and at the time of his death was a local preacher of the city. He was a member of the City Missionary and Church Extension society, president of the Emory Grove association, one of the trustees of the Baltimore annual conference and a member of the official board of Madison avenue church. The National Farmers' and Planters' bank is one of the oldest and considered one of the strongest in the city. It has passed ten per cent. dividends for several years in per cent. Its surplus fund annually. The surplus given in the bank's report on Dec. 17, 1896, was $600,000. Its capital stock is $800,000.

TAXATION IN IRELAND.

Sir Edward Clarke Creates Dissatisfaction in Tory Circles.

London, Jan. 5.—Sir Edward Clarke, M. P., formerly solicitor general, who is still recalled caused much indignation among the conservatives some time ago by declaring that Great Britain's claims in the Venezuelan matter were untenable, has again made a pronouncement that meets with much opposition among the Tories. Sir Edward last evening delivered a speech at Plymouth, which places him in the forefront of the house of commons. In the course of his address he took occasion to refer to the claim of the Irish that they are over-taxed to the amount of about £2,000,000 yearly, and to their demand that taxation be reduced and restitution made of the excess of taxes collected during the past forty years or so. After referring to the commission on the financial relations between Great Britain and Ireland, which recently submitted a report favoring the Irish contention, Sir Edward said he could not hesitate to accept the decisions on matters of fact of such a strong commission. This declaration is noteworthy as being the first from an English Tory in support of the report of the commission. As a body the English Tories are bitterly opposed to the acceptance of the report as final, and during the coming session of parliament will seek to obtain the appointment of another commission to reinvestigate the question.

Fighting in South Africa.

London, Jan. 5.—Advices received here from South Africa, the mission town of British South Africa, announce that the British force sent last month against the Angoni Zulus under Chief Chikusi, who had invaded southwest Nyasaland and burned a British mission station, besides massacring the inhabitants of a number of villages, has routed the Angonis with heavy loss after some sharp fighting. Chief Chikusi was captured and hanged. Five men of the British force were wounded.
